

Want to know what Little John's House actually looks like? Here is a quick photo tour of LJH...

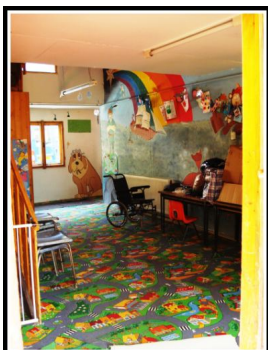

From the drive of Little John's House looking at the main house. This is where the children eat, play and sleep:

The barn. Converted to house two play rooms, accomodation for volunteers during summer school and a small flat for longer term volunteers (where Beth is staying at the moment):

One of the play rooms in the barn. This is used by our 6 children all year around and to host the annual summer school:

The orchard at the back of the barn. This is used for sports and activities during summer school and for growing some vegetables:

The volunteer accommodation is made up of two rooms containing 6 beds and one room containing 2 beds. Here is one of the larger rooms:
